Information sheet for speakers on disclosing conflicts of interest

The Hamburg Medical Association is committed to objectivity and scientific independence in the implementation and recognition of continuing education and training events. At the same time, it recognizes the fact that in many cases there is support from industry for further training events. The resulting interactions require special care when making content contributions. The principle here is transparency and unreserved disclosure of conflicts of interest.

Conflict of interest can be understood as a situation in which there is a risk that secondary interests of a personal nature will endanger the primary interests, i.e. the actual goals of medical or scientific activity. In a good sense, it is about informing the audience and not about condemning or excluding connections to commercial companies. The overriding principle is to give the listener the opportunity to form their own complete picture.

Disclosure of conflicts of interest in written form serves to ensure transparency and to assess the eligibility of an event for recognition.

We expect conflicts of interest to be disclosed to participants in accordance with Section 8 Paragraph 3 of the advanced training regulations for Hamburg doctors dated December 2nd, 2013. It is possible to display conflicts of interest on the first slide of the presentation at the beginning of the presentation for a sufficiently long time or to give the participants a handout with the conflicts of interest.
